[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, February 12.—The millitary appropriation bill, one of the largest the House has to deal with has been under discussion, with Representative Hay, chairman of the Millitary Affairs Committee, in charge. While this bill has been under consideration, and until it is completed. Representative E. W. Saunders, another member of the Virginia delegation, will be in the chair.

Mr. Hay has led a good fight for the bill, which if passed as it came from the committee, will show a saving of about $3.000,000 over the same bill last year. Never was a similar measure more stubbornly contested from so many quarters. The War Department opposes many of its features, especially those referring to the consolidation of several important branches, and it is almost certain that the fight, which began when the bill was reported to the House, will consolidation of several important and the fight, which began when the bill was reported to the House, will consolidation of several important the fight, which began when the bill was reported to the House, will considered the fight, which began when the bill was reported to the House, will considered the fight, which began when the bill was reported to the House, will considered the fight, which began when the bill was reported to the House, will considered the fight, which began when the bill passed as it came from the committee he will show the country that, in spite of the opposition to the limelist problems to handle, and has taken care of them in excellent style.
